90th Fall North American Bridge Championships

Volunteer Extraordinaire: Martel is Honorary Member

Picture the bridge scene had Jan Martel dedicated her considerable intellectual, legal, administrative and creative energies elsewhere.

Would U.S. Women's bridge have the structurally sound foundation it has for international competition? Would the United States Bridge Championships – Open, Women's Seniors and Juniors – be as organized and enjoyable for the competitors? Would there be vugraph? Etc. and so forth and so on ...

Now imagine the cost if the bridge organizations that benefitted from Jan's more than 30 years of volunteerism had to pay for services rendered.

"Nature abhors a vacuum," Jan says. "I like to think someone would have filled it." Maybe, but most certainly not with the utter competence that Jan brings to every task she undertakes.

For these and a resume of volunteer contributions a mile and a half long, the ACBL Board of Directors named Jan the organization's 2018 Honorary Member of the Year.

When the announcement was made at the Goodwill Meeting on Monday evening, she says "they stood up and clapped and everything! I was surprised. It's nice to be acknowledged. There are so many wonderful people doing so many wonderful things."

Presented with the Blackwood Award for service to bridge and inducted into the ACBL Hall of Fame in 2012, Jan is the go-to resource for information about anything in the bridge world.

"People ask me all sorts of questions," she says, "And I think, 'Now why on earth would I know the answer to that? Oh wait! I do know the answer to that."

In the early 1990s, Jan was one of the founders of the ACBL's Women's Committee, which oversaw the

They won the Whitehead Women's Pairs: Katarzyna Dufrat and Justyna Zmuda.

Dufrat, Zmuda win Whitehead Women's Pairs

With a round to go, Katarzyna Dufrat and Justyna Zmuda, members of the Polish national bridge team, were in second place in the Whitehead Women's Pairs by less than a quarter of a matchpoint. On the final round, they scored 39 out of a possible 50 matchpoints to win the event in convincing fashion.

The winners' final score, including carryover, was 858, more than 16 matchpoints better than that of the runners-up - Texans Nancy Passell and Petra Hamman. The winners scored 63.54% in the final session. Passell and Hamman had a 60.46% game.

The Polish players have multiple medals in Junior competitions and have scored well in open events. Zmuda and Michal Klukowski, another young Polish star, won the Mixed Pairs at the 8th Open

Retired TD now found at the table

Of all the tournament directors who have ever worked for the ACBL, Mike Flader was the happiest at the advent of computer scoring for bridge games.

It all goes back to how he got his start as a TD.

Flader had learned how bridge is played by reading books on the game, his interest piqued by the bridge games his parents played at home in the Minneapolis area.

In 1968, Flader was a student at the University of Minnesota. One day, he walked into the student union and saw several tables of bridge play. Among them were future stars of the game, including Howard Weinstein and Steve Garner. Flader joined in and soon found himself at a duplicate club. "I was basically hooked," he says.

Flader worked his way through college – at the student union and later in the Athletics Department. He managed the golf course on the U of M campus during the summer and the ice rink in winter. "That

Tchamitch, Hampson Atop the Blues

On the strength of a blistering 70% game Wednesday afternoon, Haig Tchamitch, Paradise Valley AZ, and Geoff Hampson of Las Vegas zoomed to the top of the Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs leaderboard. They followed up in the evening with a 57.5% session.

In second position, trailing by almost a board, are Oregonians Louis Beauchet and Jon Bartlett, who turned in two solid 60% games. Ai-Tai Lo and William Pettis are sitting in third.

With 78 pairs in action on the final day of the three-day contest, top on a board will be 38.

Floridians keep Mini-Blue lead

First-day leaders Saul Gross of Miami Beach FL and Juan Castillo of Fort Lauderdale FL remained atop the leaderboard after Wednesday's semifinal rounds in the Mini-Blue Ribbon Pairs. Their fourboard carryover is just 2.65 matchpoints ahead of Margie Cole and Leonardo Fruscoloni of New York. A huge first semifinal session of 74.17% secured the Floridians' lead as they backed it up with a 55.09% in the second session.

Playing in style: Finding fashion at the NABC

Bridge players have a reputation of not dressing very well. "Good luck with that," directors told us when they heard that Daily Bulletin staff were roaming the playing areas Tuesday looking for people to spotlight for a fashion story. But not all bridge players fit the stereotype, and it was not hard to find several who had put some thought into their outfits.

"When I play bridge, I want to feel good," said Cristal Nell of Seattle. "I want to dress for success." A mom who spends most of her time wearing a T-shirt and jeans, she relishes occasions to elevate her fashion game. "Bridge tournaments are my opportunity to dress up."

The view of when and where fashion is important is more expansive in Europe, according to Norberto Bocchi of Barcelona, who says the stereotype of bridge players applies to Americans in general. "Europeans care more," said Bocchi, noting his $2000 jacket. "It's not like America."

Several others made our best-dressed list: Sylvia Shi, Yoko Sobel of New York, Lisa Fishman of Vancouver WA, Brenda Glaze of Anchorange AK and

For everyone who hasn't already wasted far too much of their lives working on why Deep Finesse never makes a mistake, some analyses can be initially gobsmacking. What do you think is par for North-South on this deal from the second qualifying session of the Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs? A quick check of losers suggests that it should be easy to score plus 110 in diamonds, clubs or a major-suit partscore – or plus 400 in 3NT.

Nothing, however, is ever easy in the world of DF!

Sure, there are nine tricks (five diamonds, three hearts and a spade or a club), but try taking them on the Garozzo play – an opening diamond lead to disrupt the communications. If you win the ♦A and cash the hearts, the defenders will have a heart and four black-suit winners to cash.

If you win the ♦A and play a club up, planning to unblock the high clubs from dummy to create a low-club entry to hand, then East plays low and West takes the  $\Delta Q$  and can exit with anything but a spade. When declarer plays a second club, East wins and shifts to a spade. Declarer puts up the ♠K and West plays low. Now declarer is locked in dummy to lead a black card and the defenders can cash out.

The same basic variations apply if declarer wins the ♦K at trick one to play a high club. East wins to play a spade, West plays low and declarer cannot unscramble his tricks.

Bridge Bucks and Check Cashing

Through Saturday, Dec. 2, the hours of operation of the Bridge Bucks and check cashing desk will be 9:30-10 a.m. and noon -1 p.m. The table is located on the second floor outside Harbor Ballroom (near the escalator).

Players may use VISA, MasterCard, Discover and American Express to purchase Bridge Bucks. There is a $500 limit on check cashing.

Watch your valuables

There have been thefts in the playing areas during this tournament. Players are cautioned not to leave their valuables unattended, even for short periods of time.

Video support library

In addition to calling ACBL with support questions, you now have video assistance to help with common issues at your club. Have a question about the new 2017 Laws? We've got you covered. Need help with a process in ACBLscore?

JUST FOR NEW PLAYERS

Have you discussed? More on doubles

By Brent Manley

As you play more bridge, you will discover that the double is a versatile tool. Just be sure that you and your partner discuss the features of these conventional calls so that you are on the same page.

One of the most useful conventions is the "support" double. It's handy because chances to use it come up frequently and even when you don't use it, you are imparting more information than you might expect. Here's an example:

West	North	East	South
			1♦
Pass	1♥	2♣	Dbl
South	'a double abov	ve three cor	d hoort sunno

South's double shows three-card heart support. Now consider the other actions South might take. A direct raise guarantees four-card support. Pass by South confirms that he has at most a doubleton heart. This information can be useful if North-South end up on defense.

It's not always necessary to double to show three-card support. Check out this auction:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1♥	Dbl	Redbl

South's redouble shows three-card heart support. A direct raise would show four-card support. Pass is the same as if East had bid instead of doubling.

Your ACBL convention card includes a box to tick indicating you are playing support doubles, providing space for you to indicate how high the opposition bid can be before support doubles are "off."

I suggest that you use the support double through  $2 \checkmark$ . If it is "on" just one level higher  $(2 \spadesuit)$ ,

"Let me get this straight....you want a pre-tournament agreement spelling out the division of assets and custody of the cat?"

partner could find herself playing a three-level contract on a 4-3 fit, a potentially unhappy situation if your side is vulnerable.

Responsive doubles

Another useful convention is known as the responsive double, a takeout action when there has been an immediate raise to the two or three level over partner's takeout double. Here's a classic example:

West	North	East	South
1♦	Dbl	2♦	?
South	holds:
1652	♥ ○ 10 9 5	$ 3	* 0763

South isn't strong enough to bid a suit or to cuebid 3♦, but some action is definitely called for despite the missing high-card strength (the shape is perfect). The solution is to double, which is for takeout. South will almost never have a penalty double of 2♦. With the example hand, double would be appropriate even if East had bid 3♦ instead of 2♦. With a more balanced hand, South would need more high-card points (9-plus) if doubling would force his side to the three level, as when West opened 1♠ and East raised to 2♠.

Note that the responsive double is on when the same suit has been bid and raised after the opening bid has been doubled.

Discuss with your partner how high the bidding can go with responsive doubles still in effect. Many pairs put the limit at 4. The responsive double can also be used when partner doubles a weak opening bid of two or three and third hand raises.

Opening lead: ♠K.

Bidding commentary: As East, you aren't strong enough to overcall 14, but you are strong enough to bid 2♠ later! Why? When the opponents die out at the two level after having found a likely eight-card fit, keep this in mind: (1) The high-card points are usually rather evenly divided between the two partnerships; (2) if they have an eight-card fit, your side almost always will have one as well; (3) if they have a nine-card fit, it is 100% that your side has at least an eight-card fit. Now your 2♠ bid should make more sense.

It is important to try to push opponents to the three level when they have found a fit and conked out at the two level. If the opponents are happy to play at the two level, how thrilled can they be to play at the three level? Balancing at tournament bridge is a huge part of the game. One major caution: If the opponents don't have a fit (each bidding and rebidding a different suit), your side is likely not to have an eight-card fit. Balance against fits, not misfits!

Bidding commentary #2: As West, when partner "balances" with 2♠, partner is playing you for some 9-12 HCP and hoping for threecard support! Partner needs that much to have any chance to make a two-level contract! Partner is bidding your hand! Here, you have normal expectancy, but 3 of your HCP (♦J, ♣Q) are not "working points." Secondary honors in suits the opponents have bid are better suited for defense. Even the ♥K, may not be working if the ♥A is to your left. Final thought: When partner balances at the two level, the idea is to push the opponents to the three level, not to go there yourself! In order to compete to the three level after partner balances. you should have four-card support plus a side-suit singleton, or two side-suit doubletons.

Bidding commentary #3: As South, "take the push" and bid 3♣. You have a distributional hand facing a partner who figures to have three or four clubs. Distributional hands, point count notwithstanding, tend to take the push, whereas balanced hands usually do not.

Play commentary: As South, after winning the A, cash the top clubs and top diamonds, ruff a diamond in dummy and exit dummy with a spade. West wins, cashes the ♣Q (a smart defensive play when partner has no more trumps) and gets out with a spade, which you ruff. You concede a diamond, and wind up losing one trick in each suit. Against good defense, North-South cannot make even 2♠!

Coming to the NABC has opened a new world for Sandi Wolfe of Detroit MI. "I am having the best time! Everybody is so friendly," Wolfe said. With children in the area, she came to San Diego for Thanksgiving with them and planned to stay for the tournament, but was apprehensive about coming without a partner. All four partners she's been matched with have worked out well, she said. "I was so nervous going to the partnership desk the first time, I would do it again in a heartbeat."

Appealing a ruling

Players in NABC+ events who want to appeal a director's ruling initiate the process by speaking with the director who delivered the original ruling. The table director will fill out paperwork regarding the appeal, and the appellants will explain what they believe to be wrong with the initial ruling. From there, the case may be handled by a variety of means. When the appeals reviewer receives the case, the circumstances of that particular case will determine whether the case can be resolved by the original staff (in the case of misapplication of Law or regulation, for instance), a panel of directors, or even a committee-type hearing which could include bridge experts.

process for selecting teams for world championship play. In addition to creating a seeding point scale, the committee – "Kitty Cooper was the driving force here," says Jan – started the child care program at NABCs. She served as the chair of the Women's International Team Trial Committee; subsequently, she brought those same organizational skills to the Senior International Team Trial Committee.

Jan and the USBF are almost synonymous: When the organization was formed, Jan served as a board member and as its president. And when she exhausted term limits, the position of chief operating officer (non-voting) was created for her. She serves today as COO, secretary and webmaster, and is responsible for organizing sites for the Open, Women's, Senior and Junior trials among other things.

Of the contributions Jan has made to bridge, she is proudest of vugraph. She's worked with BBO and the ACBL since 1994 to bring high-level bridge to a mass audience online. The phenomenon has come from single-table coverage of the Vanderbilt final to full-match coverage of the quarterfinals, semis and final of all major NABC team championships as well as all U.S. Bridge Federation championships.

She calls herself an improver: "Everything is a learning experience. We get better and better each time."

Martel looks to the challenges ahead. At the top of the list is fundraising. The ACBL, which has historically paid $165,000 in annual membership dues to the World Bridge Federation, is gradually transitioning that obligation to the three national bridge organizations in North America: the USBF, the Canadian Bridge Federation and the Mexican Bridge Federation. As the largest of the NBOs, the USBF bears the lion's share of the bill.

There will be a line item on ACBL membership statement enabling members to support international bridge by donating to the USBF if they wish, she explains.

"We don't have money, but we have bridge stars who have expertise. How can we use that to give value in exchange for supporting international bridge?" she ponders.

She floats a couple of ideas, including a fantasy bracket for the USBF trials for supporting members.

"That was an idea suggested by Jay Whipple," she says, crediting the possibility posed by the 2018 ACBL president. "And the winner could field a team and play the trials champions."

She pauses. "Or how about reserved kibitzing seats at championships?"

Also on Jan's to-do list for the next year or two: finding a successor.

She has been the non-playing captain of four Bermuda Bowl Teams – the most recent being the 2017 victory in Lyon, France this past summer.

Jan plays some bridge, too. She has won seven NABC titles. Her favorite was the 1988 win in the Baldwin North American Pairs playing with Chip, her husband, ACBL Hall of Famer and seven-time world champion. Or maybe it was the 2009 Grand National Teams Championship Flight win playing

Be Scent-sitive!

Some people have an extreme sensitivity to fragrances (colognes or perfumes). Many ACBL clubs, units and districts have adopted policies that prohibit players from wearing fragrances. The ACBL has not issued an official policy on the matter, preferring instead to appeal to the goodwill of its members to refrain from using fragrances.

Candace Bergmann - Kim Ebner, Pasadena CA

44.05%

Because duplicate bridge requires players to be in close proximity to each other, individuals who suffer from fragrance-related reactions cannot avoid those who are wearing them. Among the commonly reported symptoms are intense headaches (indeed, fragrances can frequently be a trigger for migraine sufferers) or breathing-related problems. For these individuals, the issue is much more serious than simply disliking a particular smell — it's a real health problem.

The ACBL asks everyone to give this issue serious consideration. If you're going to play in a club or a tournament, please don't wear cologne, perfume or scented lotions.

Age requirement for Senior events

You must have been before January 1, 1959, to qualify to play in ACBL Senior events.

WBF to offer shorter events for Orlando championships

World Bridge Federation President Gianarrigo Rona is a frequent visitor to ACBL's North American Bridge Championships. He came to San Diego for meetings with various bridge officials, including Jay Whipple, new ACBL President, and Bahar Gidwani, ACBL's new chief executive.

Rona took time while he was at the tournament to encourage players to attend the 11th World Bridge Series championships in Orlando FL next year. It's the first world championship in the U.S. since 2010 (Philadelphia).

WBF President Gianarrigo Rona.

The tournament, scheduled for Sept. 21 to Oct. 6, will be played at the Marriott Orlando World Center. There are several restaurants and lounges within the Marriott complex. Players who have their families with them can take advantage of a shuttle service to Walt Disney World.

There are other attractions in Orlando, including the Epcot Center and Universal Studios and other museums and galleries. There are many opportunities for golfing as well.

All of the bridge events are transnational, meaning that pairs and teams can be made up of players from different countries. The schedule includes Open, Women's and Senior championships – pairs and teams – plus a schedule of side events. A Mixed Teams championship is also on the schedule.

Rona said the WBF is aware that some players prefer shorter events, so there will be some two-day competitions, plus Youth and Senior "triathlons." In that format, players compete in teams, pairs and individuals, with overall winners and prizes for players who do well in each segment.

Rona said the WBF has negotiated a special rate for accommodations at the Marriott and that reservations can be made now. Visit worldbridge.org to reserve your room.

More information about the shorter competitions will be available at the WBF website in the coming weeks.

Will Williams and Jack Buchanan.

Richmond VA

Jean Barry of Livermore CA. It was harder to find well-dressed men, but a few made the cut, including Thomas Paske of England and Andrew Sinclair of Albany CA.

Partners Will Williams and Jack Buchanan of Richmond VA, who live part of the year in Hawaii, stood out for their almost matching Hawaiian shirts. "We dress this way all the time," Williams said, explaining they've been wearing Hawaiian shirts for the 15 years they've been playing together.

Lynn Blumenthal of Santa Rosa CA wore a rainbow-colored shawl with some of the colors matching streaks in her hair. "It makes a statement," said her partner Kate Hill.

Bright colors caught our attention on a few other players. Marion Michielsen of Sweden had a bright orange top over her baby bump, and Suzanne Cook of McKineleyville CA wore a lush green. Simon Ekenberg of Sweden sported bright yellow and burgundy socks.

Then there were the attention-grabbing hats. Liz Hamilton of Las Vegas, who will chair the 2019 Summer NABC there, had several pins in her hat. "We teach bridge on the Queen Mary, and the pins represent places we've stopped," she explained.

Stephanie Rogers of San Francisco had about 30 patches from bridge tournaments on her hat. While she likes to show off her bridge travels, her hat has another function, as does her husband's. The hats prevent them from seeing each other's faces. It's too easy to take inferences from facial cues, Rogers explained. "We've been married almost 50 years."

A colorful ball of yarn sat atop the stocking cap of Paul McDaniel of Richmond CA. On the opposite end of the hat spectrum, Anthony Chiocchi of New York sported a classic baseball cap.

Speaking of sports, James Holzhauer's jersey was one you don't see often: the Las Vegas Golden Knights, his hometown hockey team.

A T-shirt worn by Tim Niebauer of Boulder CO would be unlikely to make a fashion article anywhere else, but the bridge cartoon it displayed made it appropriate for the occasion of a bridge tournament.

with Chip, Kit Woolsey, Kyle Larsen, Rose Meltzer and Sally Woolsey. "Anything with my wonderful husband," she says.

On her own time, Jan is an avid equestrian.
Oh, she loves her horses! She proudly shares baby pictures and videos of Fairy, a chestnut mare who foaled during the 2016 Summer NABC in Washington DC. Born on the same day as Jan's father, Fairy's full name is Laissez Faire. (Jan's dad is Nobel Prize-winning economist Milton Friedman.)

In June, Martel plans to ride for membership in the Century Club, which recognizes riders and horses whose combined age totals 100 years or more. Her mare, Lalique, is 25 years old.

Second place in the Whitehead Women's Pairs went to Nancy Passell and Petra Hamman.

European Championships in Montecatini, Italy, in June of this year.

Zmuda, 26, and Dufrat, 29, have played together for about five years and now teach and coach bridge for the Polish federation.

The winners qualified for the final in fourth place, moving up to third after the first final session, just ahead of Passell and Hamman, who moved from 25th to fourth in that same session. Passell and Hamman live in the Dallas area.

Flader

was the best job I ever had," he says.

He was lured away from that position when he was offered the job of running the Twin Cities Bridge Center, which he did for 15 years.

In 1989, TD Larry Brobst, who is working at this tournament, started Flader's TD training. "He gave me a score sheet for a 15-table game," Flader recalls. The assignment was to matchpoint and score the game. "I started on a Friday afternoon," Flader recalls, "and I was still working on Sunday. My salvation was computer scoring."

The slow start notwithstanding, Flader did well enough to be offered full-time employment with the ACBL in 1994. He retired in 2016. Along the way, he earned formal recognition for his good work as a TD, accepting the Jane Johnson Award from ACBL Headquarters for excellent customer service. He earned the Tom Weeks Award for professional development from the tournament directors' association.

Flader's work as a TD was recognized again in 2000 when he was promoted to associate national rank. "Fortunately," he says, "I was really good with the players, but I was not as detail-oriented as some of the best directors."

Flader decided to retire last year because "the traveling got harder, and I was away from Jill an awful lot." Jill is Flader's wife of 25 years. They met when she was taking bridge lessons from him at the bridge center in Minneapolis. He describes their union as "the best thing that ever happened to me." He even remembers the first time they played duplicate together – July 8, 1991 – and he celebrates that day every year. They live in Eagan MN, in the Minneapolis area.

At home, he teaches bridge at private clubs and plays whenever he gets the chance. A good player, he has his eye on high achievement in the bridge world. "I wouldn't mind winning a national championship," he says.

Flader is playing bridge at the Fall NABC in San Diego and visiting with former colleagues in the TD ranks. "I really miss all the people I used to work with, like Rick Beye and Tom Marsh," Flader says.

Lately, Flader has taken up walking for exercise. "I'd like to live a while longer," he says. All in all, he's a man with a positive outlook. "Life is great," he says.

Monitoring

At this and future North American Championships, ACBL will be monitoring NABC+ events with visible, real-time cameras. The images will be recorded and available for later inspection and review by officials.

By general monitoring of the session and participants' behavior, ACBL has another source of information that may be useful in determining facts and settling issues arising from some types of ethical and behavioral complaints or actions. Please summon a director if a problem occurs at the table.

This procedure is intended to assure everyone that the playing field is level and that misbehavior will not be tolerated.

Sunshine and cloud in the Daylight Pairs

By Phillip Alder

On Tuesday, I played in the Daylight A/B/C Open Pairs with Frani Ridder. We both live in Hobe Sound, FL, during the winter. Here are a few problems faced at our table.

Dlr: North ★ 10 9 2 Vul: None ♥ Q 10 6 2 ♦ 10 8 4 ♣ A K 9 ♠ 4 3 ♥ A 7 5 3 ♦ A Q 6 2 ♣ J 7 6 West North East South Partner You Pass Pass 1♠ Pass 2♠ Dbl Pass 3♣ 3♠ All Pass

Do you agree with North's bid of 3♠? If not, what would you have done?

West leads the ♥9. How would you defend? The full deal:

	♠ 1(	92
	♥ Q	10 6 2
	• 10	84
	♣ A	K 9
★ 865		4	4 3
♥ 98		•	A 7 5 3
♦ K J 5		•	AQ62
♣ Q 10 £	5 4 3	4	J 7 6
	♠ A	KQJ7
	♥ K	J 4
	♦ 9	7 3
	♣ 8	2
West	North	East	South
Ridder		Alder
	Pass	Pass	1♠
Pass	2♠	Dbl	Pass
3♣	3 ♠	All Pass

I should have opened 1♦, but as it went, I made a pre-balancing takeout double on the second round, and partner advanced with 3♣. Now North should have doubled to show a maximum, only three-card spade support and a hand with defensive potential. If South had passed it out, we would have gone down two for minus 300 and North-South would have scored a cold top, 64 matchpoints out of 64.

Our opponents did not do badly anyway when I misdefended. I took the first trick with the ♥A and optimistically returned the ♥7, hoping partner could ruff. But now declarer had 10 tricks: five spades, three hearts and two clubs. Minus 170 gave us only 13 matchpoints out of 64.

Wheels within wheels

By Barry Rigal ♠ A 10 7 Dlr: West Vul: Both ♥J654 ♦ Q 7 4 ♣ Q 4 3 ◆9642 ♦ Q J 8 5 ♥83 ♥ Q 7 ♦ J 9 6 ♦ A 10 8 2 ♣ J 10 2 ♣ A 8 6 5 ♠ K 3 ♥ A K 10 9 2 ♦ K 5 3 ♣ K 9 7

The field reached 3NT or 4♥ on this deal from the first qualifying session of the Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs, and both contracts offered interesting play on a spade lead.

In 3NT after the lead of the ♠6 to the 7, jack and king, declarer at our table tried a diamond to the queen after cashing the ♥A. East won and shifted to the ♣J, and that was 10 tricks.

Let's say you play 4♥ after the same start. When you put in the ♠7, East can lead you astray by playing the ♠Q. Now declarer will surely finesse against the ♠J and go down without a struggle. If South avoids that trap, he will strip off the spades and trumps, then lead a diamond towards one honor or the other. If he is able to lead a diamond towards the king, West will have to do some fancy unblocking to get out of his own way.

Let's say declarer leads a diamond to the queen and ace. Back comes a diamond. Declarer puts up the king, West unblocking the jack, and now on the third round of diamonds, East can overtake the diamond with the 10, to arrive at this position:

What club should East shift to? Whatever his choice, South has to consider three positions: East might have begun with ♣J 10 2, J 8 2 or 10 8 2. When East returns the 2, declarer should put in the 7 because that caters to two of the three positions. Playing the 7 will, of course, result in down one.

If East shifts to the ♣J, should South play him for the 10? Probably yes, because the jack would be fatal from J-x-x if partner has the ♣A 10 8 x and declarer guesses right.

What if East shifts to the ♣10? Again, it may be right to play him for the J-10, but, no, I'm not willing to back this view with coin of the realm.

Smoking Policy

Using ACBL Live to find results

ACBL Live is a section of the ACBL website that allows users to search tournament results in a variety of ways and offers much more data on each event within a tournament than was available before its creation. ACBL Live offers comprehensive results for every player and every session within an event at any ACBL tournament.

Overalls from events at the NABC and qualifiers are still listed in the Daily Bulletin. But the pages of small-print session results are no longer included. This guide will help you find those results online.

During NABCs, the main feature on the ACBL home page is a quick link to ACBL Live results for the current tournament.

You can return to this data trove after the tournament is over by clicking on the Live tab, third from left on the home page. From the main ACBL Live landing page, there are two ways you can get started: by searching for a player or a tournament. The quick link available during NABCs bypasses this page.

Viewing session results

Whether you search by player or by event, you come to a page with a list of events broken down by session. In the right column of this page are several blue links that lead to the various results pages for each session. These vary by type of event and stage of progress of the event. Here's a breakdown of the options.

Summary

The summary page has all result information for an event on one page; the other links break out portions of the information on the summary page. At the top of the page you will find Overalls or Leaderboards and Recaps. For pair games, scroll down and you will see the board-by-board scores and hands. For team games, you will see a link to the Bracket.

2 Overalls and Leaderboards

The Overalls page lists pairs or teams in order of overall score. Pairs or teams who won masterpoints are shown, and the quantity and color of these session awards are listed. These listings may be preliminary.

3 Recaps

The recaps page lists all pairs or teams, split up by section and direction for pairs events. The first section alphabetically will be shown; click on the section letters to see a different section.

4 Hands

The hands page provides a compact view of the hand records for a session. Each board is displayed, with a DoubleDummy hand analysis.

6 Brackets

ACBL Live uses FastResults for brackets for Swiss and KO events. Flights and placements are color-coded based on the legend on the top left.

6 Qualifiers

For two- and three-day NABC and NABC+ events, the list of qualifiers you see in the Daily Bulletin is also available on Live.

A Searching by event

On the San Diego NABC page of ACBL Live, there are several ways to look for results. The body of the page is a list of events with most recent on top, and pagination tools allow you to page through that list. In the upper right, the key events box highlights those most frequently searched. Below key events is an Event Search box where you can find an event by entering three or more letters of its name. There is also a Player Search box to the left of key events.

Searching by player

The Player Search offers a quick way to find all results for yourself or any player. For those reading at home who can't make it to the San Diego NABC but want to know how your friends here are doing, this is the place to look.

Click in the search box and enter the player's last name, first name. An auto-complete list of players matching your entry will appear below the search box. Click on the line for the player you want.

You will be taken to a page that lists all the recent sessions the player participated in, not just those in San Diego.

Personal Scores

Both the overall list and the recap have a Personal Scores column at right with links to scores pages for each pair. Click on the Scores link to see board-by-board results for a particular pair.

- A You can switch which pair you are viewing using the Select a Pair dropdown.
- B For multi-session events, you can also switch to a different session using the dropdown at the top of each results page.
- The results tables on each of these pages can be reordered by clicking on the column header that you want to sort by. So, if you want to see your board results listed from best to worst, click on either the Matchpoints or % column from the personal scores page. You can also click on a player's name to see other results for that player, which works the same as the Player Search from the Live home page.

NABC Results by Email/Text

Want to be notified when results and the Daily Bulletins from the NABC are posted online? Want to see your results in the events you played in? ACBL Live does just that.

With the ACBL Live notification system, you will receive emails and/or text messages after each session with links that go directly to the information you're looking for. The email/text message will contain your score for the session and a link to your results. (These results will also be available on your MyResults page at MyACBL.) Players will also receive a notification to indicate when the Daily Bulletin for that day is available.

This service is automatic for members unless they have specifically opted out. To receive text messages, go to MyACBL at acbl.org and select Update My Information to enter your email address and/or cell phone number.

Also at MyACBL, visit the Privacy Settings tab to make sure you've selected the Subscribe setting for General Email Communication and Cell Phone Text Communication to receive these notifications. See page 14 for more information about using ACBL Live.

Entries

(For the team events, this means $68 per team per session for teams of four, $85 per team per session for teams of five, and $102 per team per session for teams of six. Only ACBL members are eligible to play in these events.)
