Statement of Equal Opportunity Employment

The ACBL is committed to a policy of equal employment opportunity and does not discriminate because of race, creed, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, sex, sexual orientation, age, disability, veteran status, genetic information or any other basis governed by federal, state/province or local law, ordinance or regulation. Equal employment opportunity will be extended to all persons in all aspects of the employer-employee relationship, including recruitment, hiring, compensation, benefits, training, promotion, transfer, discipline, layoff, termination and social or recreational activities.
